Sobel & Co. Names New Member of the Firm

Livingston, New Jersey. On January 1, 2015 Sobel & Co. proudly named Rebecca B. Fitzhugh, CPA/CFF, CFE, MBA, CIT, CIGA as a Member of the Firm.

Previously Rebecca had served as a Senior Manager in the firm's Fraud and Forensic Accounting/Litigation Support Services Group where her years in the practice of public accounting and her diverse background, including fraud examination and marketing communications, gave her a unique viewpoint from which she has been able to serve a variety of clients as a trusted advisor.

Rebecca originally joined Sobel & Co.'s audit department in 2001, but was quickly asked to join the forensic team. "Becky's strong technical skills complement our team's investigative approach. She has greatly expanded her knowledge base over the last decade and today her litigation and forensic accounting experience include construction integrity monitoring, governmental compliance reviews, contract disputes, shareholder disputes, and white collar crime," noted Darryl Neier, Principal in Charge of the Fraud and Forensic Accounting/Litigation Support Services.

Rebecca's credentials speak for themselves. She is a Certified Public Accountant licensed in New Jersey, is Certified in Financial Forensics by the AICPA, is a Certified Fraud Examiner, and is a Certified Inspector General Auditor as well. She is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants, the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners and the Association of Inspectors General. Becky is also a member of the New Jersey Women Lawyers Association and sits on the board of Partners for Women and Justice where she is Treasurer. Rebecca was named "Woman of Note" by the New Jersey Society of CPAs in 2012.

She served as an adjunct faculty member at New York University, teaching an exam review course for the Certified Fraud Examiner credential. She currently lectures frequently on a wide range of topics, including CLE training for attorneys, ranging from fraud in the construction industry and in financial statements to identity theft.

Rebecca earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Union College and a Master of Business Administration degree at the State University of New York at Binghamton.

Alan Sobel, Managing Member of the Firm commented, “Over the years Rebecca has proven to be a True Professional. She is someone who cares deeply about her people, her clients and her community. She is a mentor in our firm, a strong advocate for work life balance and a loyal supporter as well as an objective colleague who consistently offers good guidance tempered by good judgment. We are lucky to have her as a leader and influencer at Sobel & Co.”

About Sobel & Co.

Since its founding in Newark, NJ in 1956, Sobel & Co. has been highly regarded for serving the middle market business community with a wide range of essential services combined with a cost effective approach, technical expertise and personal attention that demonstrates a sincere concern for the success of each client.
